SILVERBERRY BRINGS MAGICAL BREW OF SORCERY, SUSPENSE, AND BEGUILING CHARACTERS TO BORDERS BOOKS

A. R. Silverberry will read from and sign copies of his award-winning novel, Wyndano's Cloak, at Borders bookstores in Marin and Santa Cruz. The events are part of Silverberry's charitable fundraising book tour. He will donate a portion of author profit to DrawBridge, a nonprofit that provides expressive art programs for homeless and other vulnerable children in the greater San Francisco Bay Area. The Marin event will be on September 25th, from 2 – 4 PM, at Borders Books, San Rafael. The Santa Cruz event will be on October 2nd, from 2 – 4 PM, at Borders Books, Santa Cruz.

Wyndano's Cloak is a fantasy adventure about a girl who must save her family from a danger horrible enough to shatter their world forever. The book will appeal to children ages ten and up, and adults who cherish fairy tales. Tweens and Teens will resonate with the strong message about identity. The heroine's quest for empowerment in the face of dire adversity has universal appeal. The result is a gripping tale of loyalty and betrayal, love and hate, and the yearning of the spirit.

Wyndano's Cloak has captured rave reviews. Feathered Quill Review declared, ". . . Constant suspense . . . impossible to put down. You're going to be very tired in the morning!" Children's Bookwatch/Midwest Book Review proclaimed the book would, ". . . attract a following to clamor for sequels to this exciting tome." And The US Review of Books called it, ". . . A powerful coming-of-age story."

When asked why he is helping DrawBridge, Silverberry stated, "I heard a staggering statistic: One in fifty children in the US are homeless. To make matters worse, the struggling economy is closing many of the organizations that could help. DrawBridge is doing fantastic work with these kids. I want to aid all I can."

DrawBridge's art programs create an environment that fosters children's sense of joy, creativity, and exuberance. DrawBridge strives to promote the wellbeing and stability of family by creating a supportive community where children help other children, establishing a lifetime of giving.
